

CITY AND NEIGHBORHOOD.

Paul Nelson, the son of William A. Nelson, was operated on at St. Mary's hospital on Saturday for appendicitis. The operation was successful, and the patient is progressing very well.

The lecture which Fisher Harris was to deliver at Unity hall last night on the subject, "The Future of Utah," did not come off, owing to the indisposition of Mr. Harris. It will probably be delivered next Sunday. Mr. Harris will be on deck as usual today.

James Jones, the man whose skull was fractured at the May Day mine at Tintic last week, died at the Keogh-Wright hospital yesterday morning. He was a member of the local Odd Fellows lodge, and will be buried with their rites; the funeral arrangements are not yet completed. He was unmarried and leaves no family.

An attractive programme has been arranged for the meeting of the Unity club this evening. Miss Bosticher will read a paper on "The Unity of the Holy Roman Empire," illustrating her talk with stereoscopic views. Judge Albert Howell of Ogden will read a paper on "Goethe and Schiller—Goethe's Faust and his Lesson." Prof. Radcliffe will furnish the music for the evening.

Rev. Father Kieley of St. Mary's cathedral has consented to let the choir repeat the concert given on St. Patrick's day for the benefit of Mrs. Charles Smith, the unfortunate woman whose husband has been allowing her to die from cancer and privation. An effort will be made to defray the expense of keeping her in a local hospital. The time and place cannot yet be given.

The citizens' meeting called to protest against the assessments cast on the State by President Joseph E. Smith, will meet in the afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Bamberger hall. It is expected that the committee which has been circulating the petition and protest will submit the list of signatures already obtained and that the twenty additional members of the committee will be seen.

At the Grand opera-house last night Tintic's Miltie and her company gave a programme of songs and dances. The programme was varied, and included a variety of songs and dances. The company was well received, and the programme was a success.

WINTER'S HARD FALL INTO THE LAP OF SPRING.

With a maximum velocity of forty-eight miles an hour, the storm which for several days past has been playing a strenuous engagement on the North Pacific coast swooped down upon Salt Lake yesterday morning and gave this vicinity an exhibition of winter, throttling the tender young thing, beautiful spring. The wind began blowing almost a hurricane shortly after midnight, reaching the maximum velocity at 6 o'clock in the morning. In the meantime there was a drop of 20 degrees or more in the temperature and when the wind subsided slightly the snow began to fall. The wind played havoc with awnings and signs about the city, sweeping down everything that was not securely fastened, but no serious damage was reported. Snow fell to the depth of about three inches and then the sun came out and made more mud. The air was crisp throughout the day, however, and the storm god's frowns alternated with the

NEPHI'S BIBLE AS A ROMANCE

Dr. Paden's Second Lecture on the Authenticity of the Book of Mormon.

Dr. Paden had a large congregation at the first Presbyterian church last night to hear the continuation of his sermon of the preceding Sunday. It will be remembered that on that occasion he gave an explanation of the story set forth in the Third Book of Nephi, reading characteristic passages so that his hearers might judge for themselves whether it was fit to be classed in the same category as the real gospels.

In opening his sermon of last night, he recalled their attention to this, asking the question: "Does it seem to you fit to be called a fifth gospel?" He recapitulated the main points that he had called attention to, this time adding comments on the bearing they had to the points under consideration.

"As I read through the fourth addressed, did you note any new saying which you would be ready to class with the accredited words of Jesus? In the crude accounts of wars with the secret society of Gadeanton and the other affairs which occupy seven whole chapters of this supposed gospel, does it not occur to you that it is a sort of wandering Jew?"

As for Nephi's teachings concerning the resurrection, he declared that this point of doctrine is very important to the student of the Book of Mormon. For it is the abolition of the doctrine of America, he says, living Indians or the enlightened Nephties, are not in the main, descendants of Abraham, the whole book is a fiction.

Now wish to call your attention to another point of doctrine, according to Nephi in its lack of local color. By way of illustration, I quote from Roman's Life of Jesus. The student of the Bible should for the exploration of ancient Phoenicia, of which I was a director, led me to the land of the four gospels in the ancient world, this assumed a body, a distance, and the place of the striking accord of the texts and the wonderful harmony of the evangelists' ideal which the student which served as its setting, were to me a revelation. Evidence that our gospels are true and sacred and the lands, the natural scenery of Palestine.

Let me attempt to account for the vagaries of Nephi's geography, or its general description, or failure to connect with tropical South America, is an exposition of the weakness of the claim made by the Book of Mormon to be a document. Indeed, the whole history and make-up of the story seems to indicate a determination to put the claims beyond the reach of realistic teaching.

SALT LAKE ACTOR DEAD IN DETROIT

Asphyxiated in His Room, After Suffering From an Operation for Appendicitis.

A dispatch from Detroit, Mich., received yesterday afternoon, announced the death of Robert Leland, a promising young actor and playwright, who was found in his room at a lodging-house on Columbia street. Leland was the professional name of William B. Smalley, who is well known in Salt Lake, and whose father, William E. Smalley, is a prominent business man in this city.

The room in which young Smalley was found was filled with gas from the gas jet and death was due to asphyxiation. He was found alive Thursday afternoon, and it is thought that his death occurred Thursday night. A note was found on a table in the room, which said:

"My only reason is that I have no money. I have spent many hundreds of dollars while here as a member of various theatrical companies. Don't notify my parents. It is unnecessary. On the back of the note he had written that he was suffering from appendicitis and an attack of typhoid fever had incapacitated him for work. He stated that he played a leading role in 'The Chaplains' last week."

The deceased was born at Fort Leavenworth, Kan., in 1874, but came to this city with his parents when he was a child. The young man was educated in an Eastern medical school, but ill health impelled him to leave the school. He attended a military school at Poughkeepsie, N. Y., for a short time with the intention of becoming a doctor, but he had an inclination for the stage, and he was well known as an actor and a singer. He had been in the city for some time, and he was well known as an actor and a singer.

WINTER WORRIES THE STREET CAR COMPANY

Passengers on car No. 84 on the Calder's park line sustained a slight shaking up last night, just below the park, when the car machinery dropped to the track and lifted the rear trucks off the rails. The car was traveling at slow speed at the time, having just emerged from a switch, and no damage was done except to block the deal for the night. It happened that there was another car below the disabled one, however, so that this spring ride the street-car tracks in good condition again.

BINGHAMITES BAWL OUT RELEASED SUSPECT

Narancie, the Austrian said to have committed sundry murders in his own country and this, was yesterday morning released from custody by Sheriff Emery, upon explicit information from Chief of Police O'Neil of Chicago that he is not wanted in that city.

The man returned to Bingham, where he has been engaged in mining, and after his arrival there the Sheriff's office was besieged by telephone calls from Binghamites who wanted to inform the authorities that the bad man had broken jail.

Narancie admitted to the officers here that he had stabbed a fellow-countryman in a South Chicago saloon, but claimed that he had done it in self-defense. He also claimed that he had written to him informing him that his victim did not die. Acquaintances of the man, who caused his arrest, were confident that he had committed a murder in Chicago and at least one in Austria, and there is no doubt in the minds of the officers that he is a bad actor, but under the circumstances there was nothing to do but to let him go.

Certain of Salt Lake City's largest advertisers have been experimenting upon the enterprise of newspaper advertising. One of them declares that while intelligent advertising upon two or three days in the week pays, brings good returns, an advertisement every day in The Tribune, as he has tried it, gives many times the returns for the investment.

"I will tell you why," said he to a Tribune reporter last night. "When a man or woman wants to make a purchase of the day upon which the necessity or desire to purchase enters the mind. A large advertiser, the largest advertiser in the city, may not have his ad. in that issue, but a smaller dealer or one having higher prices, may have his ad. there, and, of course, the man catches that purchaser."

Thousands of readers every day desiring to make purchases, pick up The Tribune to consult its advertising columns, and the advertiser gets those
